

Flextur provides tools for increasing your welding cell productivity. We solve complex problems with simple solutions that work.

Chris Crowe, Plant Manager,
Modine - Jefferson City, MO

“At my plant, in Jefferson City, MO, we have 204 employees. We make radiators and steel components for the frameworks of our cooling systems. We were struggling with our cobot utilization. We have engineers on site doing programming but making fixtures was taking longer than expected, and it was costly. We reached out to the Flextur Team who did a great job communicating and being upfront about what we could accomplish together. Flextur came on site and showed how to make these systems work in a financially successful way. Flextur has been a highly reliable organization and a great partner.

I recommend the Flextur Team to any company struggling to maximize their weld productivity.”

- Chris Crowe, Plant Manager

We provide turn-key solutions for our Strategic OEM Partners.

Todd Edge | Product Manager
BotX Cobot Welding Systems

"We first approached Fextur to learn more about their Contract Manufacturing capabilities. We knew them as a weld table manufacturer and we saw potential to enhance our products with some of their products for workflow and LEAN manufacturing."

Flexturs ability to customize, their aggressive approach to line up secondary suppliers, and their willingness to go out and solve, and scramble for us was critical in allowing us to meet our relatively short time frame for the project.

The liked the fact that Flextur is evolving, investing in their facility, equipment, common software, and all the things that make a good manufacturer. Including their common sense approach to manufacturing and product flow. They are on their game, and have been able to deliver what they said they were going to."

- Todd Edge, Product Manager

We provide our Strategic Partners the best contract manufacturing solutions for high quality, mid volume steel products delivered on time.

Randy Kitzmiller | General Manager
VENTRAC by Venture Products Inc.

“Throughout 40 plus years in business, I have had the opportunity to work with many different suppliers. There have been good suppliers and unfortunately, some not so good. However, there are very few suppliers I would place in the category of a valued business partner.

Since the beginning of our relationship,
Flextur has consistently performed at a high level.

I appreciate their desire to operate with integrity as well as their ability to understand business and the many challenges that can occur. Their growth and advanced manufacturing abilities has enabled us to grow our business especially in times of limited capacity.

Working with Flextur has been nothing short of exceptional.”

- Randy Kitzmiller, General Manager